

HR Policies Handbook

Page 1 – Introduction

This handbook outlines the policies and procedures applicable to all employees. The purpose of these policies is to provide clear guidance regarding workplace expectations, employee benefits, attendance, leave management, performance standards, and workplace conduct. Employees are expected to read and comply with all policies contained within this handbook.

Page 2 – Employment Terms

Employees may be employed on a full-time, part-time, contractual, or internship basis. Employment status determines eligibility for benefits and leave programs. All employees are required to maintain accurate employment records and notify Human Resources of any changes in personal information.

Page 3 – Attendance Policy

Regular attendance is essential for business operations. Employees are expected to maintain a minimum attendance rate of 95%. Repeated absenteeism without prior approval may result in disciplinary action. Managers are responsible for monitoring attendance and escalating concerns to Human Resources when necessary.

Page 4 – Annual Leave Policy

Full-time employees are entitled to 24 days of paid annual leave per calendar year. Leave requests should be submitted through the employee portal at least seven days in advance. Managers may approve or reject leave requests depending on business requirements. Unused annual leave may be carried forward up to a maximum of 10 days.

Page 5 – Sick Leave Policy

Employees are entitled to 12 days of paid sick leave annually. Sick leave exceeding three consecutive days requires a medical certificate from a registered healthcare provider. Abuse of sick leave privileges may result in disciplinary review.

Page 6 – Work From Home Policy

Eligible employees may work remotely up to two days per week with manager approval. Employees working remotely must remain available during standard business hours and maintain productivity standards equivalent to office-based work. Remote work arrangements may be revoked if performance concerns arise.

Page 7 – Employee Benefits

The organization provides comprehensive employee benefits including health insurance, provident fund contributions, gratuity benefits, wellness programs, employee assistance services, and professional development opportunities. Eligibility for benefits depends on employment classification and tenure.

Page 8 – Performance Management

Employee performance is evaluated twice annually. Managers conduct performance reviews focusing on goal achievement, collaboration, communication, and professional development. Employees demonstrating exceptional performance may be considered for promotions and performance bonuses.

Page 9 – Code of Conduct

Employees are expected to maintain professional behavior at all times. Harassment, discrimination, misuse of company resources, and violations of confidentiality requirements are strictly prohibited. Violations may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

Page 10 – Disciplinary Procedures

The organization follows a progressive disciplinary process. Corrective actions may include verbal warnings, written warnings, performance improvement plans, suspension, or termination depending on the severity of the violation. Employees have the right to appeal disciplinary decisions through Human Resources.
